

Winter Quest

"The Real Game of Life!"

"God's Plan for the Home"

January 13–15, 2012

Quest (kwěst) n.— The act or instance of seeking or pursuing something; search.

We are all on a quest! We are seeking to find a life worth living — a life that will produce happiness and fulfillment. The world seeks material things and lifestyles in an effort to find happiness. Many people spend their lives chasing these things and finish their quest empty and lonely. King Solomon understood this very well. In Ecclesiastes, Chapter 1, Solomon talks about the "Vanity of Vanities." King Solomon learned through his life that the things of this world do not result in happiness. There is only one life worth living — a life with Christ.

This year's theme is "LIFE!" We will spend this weekend in God's Word examining some of the biggest questions that we each must answer at some time throughout our lives. We will strive to answer questions such as personal finance, having a successful marriage, raising Godly children, surviving the storms of life, fulfilling our mission and purpose, and many more.

Each year this retreat focuses on how we can build a life like Christ that makes an "IMPACT" on those around us. By the end of this weekend, we will have a renewed appreciation for Jesus and the incredible blessings He brings us as Christians. We pray that we will all walk away from this weekend with a renewed commitment to live as Jesus lived! Don't miss out on an exciting weekend of spiritual growth, fun and fellowship!
